Judge Cites Darrow for Contempt TWELVE DEFENDANTS GO TO TRIAL IN BRAGEDY OF PICKWICK CLUB

BRYAN SEES SCOPES AS 'ENVOY OF HELL'; JURY HEARS BATTLE

Dayton, Tenn., July 20. (Universal).—John Thomas Scopes will hear himself described today as both a martyr to human progress and an envoy of Hell.

That will come in the great dramatic climax of his trial when opposing attorneys sum up the case before the jury.

William Jennings Bryan will make the principal speech for the prosecution. He has spent two months in the preparation of this address. It is expected here that it will be along the lines of remarks he has already made in Dayton.

In a statement Bryan accused evolutionists of a conspiracy to wreck Christianity and civilization. He charged them with dishonesty and

HINES IN HUB, PLANS NEW VETS' HOSPITAL

Brigadier-General Frank P. Hines, national director of the Veterans' Bureau, came to Boston today to settle the question of a proposed site for a neuropsychiatric hospital for 250 patients near Boston.

He announced that the site or tentatively recommended, eighteen in number, have narrowed down to five by a committee headed by Dr. L. Vernon Briggs, noted Boston expert

In mental diseases, with whom General Hines conferred at regional headquarters, No. 400 Washington street.

The proposed site is to be built within a radius of fifteen miles of the city, replacing the West Roxbury Veterans' Hospital. One of the sites was recommended by Mayor Curley.

Director Hines went to Swampscott on Page 3, Column 4.

WARRANT FOR WIFE IN SHOOTING OF COP

Ignoring his claim that he shot himself accidentally, police today obtained a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Marvin L. Scannell, charging her with assault and battery with a loaded revolver, with intent to kill her husband, Patrolman John P. Scannell.

The warrant was issued by Judge Wilfred Bolster in Municipal Court

In Special Officers' District and O'Sullivan, at the request of the police.

At the same time, the police asked that the case be continued for a week, a request that was granted.

Meanwhile in the City Hospital, Patrolman Scannell, who is attached to the Back Bay station, was re-treated on Page 3, Column 4.

CRASH KILLS WOMAN; TRIO HELD AS DRUNKS

Springfield, July 20.—Mrs. Lena Smith, twenty-five, of Ashmun street, N. Y., was killed and her three companions slightly injured today, when their automobile left the highway at a curve in Western drive, Forest Park, crashed against a tree and turned over.

Mrs. Smith was pinned between the machine and the tree and died instantly. Allie Evans, twenty-three, and Vernon Cook, twenty-six, both of Springfield, and Charles Hennessey of Chicago were thrown clear and escaped with cuts and bruises. All three were arrested, charged with drunkenness. Against Cook, who, the police allege, was at the wheel, a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor was brought.

Although a cripple, Mrs. William Jennings Bryan has attended nearly every session of the Scopes trial. Above she is seen in her wheel-chair listening to her husband say the evolutionists. The woman at her right is her nurse.

Even the Fundamentalists concede Dudley Field Malone, shown in the lower photograph in a characteristic fighting pose, made a speech in defence of Scopes. Dayton applauded his efforts liberally although it disagreed with him.

TESTIFIES FOR LOTTA'S 'CHILD'

Mrs. Sarah Hobart, who calls herself the foster sister of Mrs. Ida Manning Blankensburg, testified today in support of Mrs. Blankensburg's claim that she is the daughter of the late Lotta Crabtree and the true heir to the $5,000,000 Crabtree estate.

In previous testimony, Mrs. Blankensburg had described Mrs. Hobart as "mean" to her when they were little.

She had said Mrs. Hobart would not let her forget they were not really sisters and taunted her with being an interloper.

Mrs. Hobart said she was "trained" on Page 3, Column 1.

Forecasters Loveland does not think that there will be any extreme hot weather in Boston for two or three days. They are having a hot time in the Southwest, where temperatures ranging from 100 to 100 degrees were recorded in Texas and Oklahoma Sunday. Boston is not in the path of that stroke, however, and it will probably pass off to sea below the Mason and Dixon line.

Tuesday will be unsettled, with probably local showers. Light variable winds, becoming easterly, are forecast.

GETS 139 'FAKE SPIRIT' NOTES

New York, July 20. (A.P.)—A reward of $500 offered three years ago to anyone who can communicate with his dead wife has brought J. Albert Gilbert of Portland, Ore., 139 "spirit messages," but they're all fakes, he announced in today's issue of the Scientific American.

Before Mrs. Gilbert died in 1917, a password was agreed upon so her husband could identify messages coming from her after death. A copy of the password was sealed in a safe deposit vault.

Gilbert has been flooded with alleged messages from his wife, variously signed "Susan," "Anna," "Louise," "Sunbeam," Mrs. Gilbert's name was Florence. The offer has been renewed.

Speaking of the messages, Gilbert said:

"Those who know my wife could not imagine her saying, 'Jim, I am here, old boy,' or 'Gill, I love you.'"

Some of the messages, Gilbert said, were obtained by professional mediums, some on table boards and others through automatic writing, once extensively from the planet Venus.

COURT IS PACKED AS SELECTION OF JURY IS STARTED

With all its ancient pomp and traditional ceremony, the law set out today to apportion the blame for the Pickwick Club disaster.

It was an unusual trial that began shortly before noon before Judge Henry T. Lummus in the Second Session of Superior Criminal Court. In the first place, spectators of the merely curious variety were in the minority. There wasn't room for them.

Twelve defendants and twenty lawyers were within the bar enclosure when trial started, not to mention approximately seventy-five witnesses, three stenographers and a score or more of interested public officials.

Even benevolent critics of some of the forty-four victims of the horror were unable to get in to listen to the trial of the twelve accused. Judge Lummus, it was understood at the opening session, was considering asking the authorities of Suffolk County for a bigger courtroom, to accommodate the Continued on Page 3, Column 4.

TROOPERS HACK DOWN MAINE BILLBOARDS

Augusta, Me., July 20 (Universal).—Beginning this morning, about 100 troopers and other highway officials of Maine will begin the complete destruction and obliteration of all advertising signs in public places.

This Maine, holder of the first ship of the American navy, and home of the prohibition idea, as it has to do with insurance, becomes the first State to actually banish billboards in a State-wide effort to preserve the natural beauty of the State.

This crusade is the result of a law passed by the last Maine Legislature and signed by Governor Ralph O. Brewster, who argued that the business of Maine is presentment. Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

Coolidge Backs Senate Chiefs Against Dawes

PRESIDENT PLANS TO RESTORE PEACE

Upper House Can Be Trusted to Decide Own Procedure, the Executive Says

By BERT FORD.
Swampscott, July 20.—Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, administration leader of the United States Senate, arrived at White Court today and went into conference with President Coolidge.

Senator Curtis will be a guest of the Coolidges until Wednesday.

The President in the next seventy-two hours will formulate a definite program to place before the next Congress and will attempt to repair the breach opened between the administration and the Senate by Vice-President Charles G. Dawes.

Mr. Curtis came by invitation of the President to discuss the matter. PLANS SPECIAL SESSION.

President Coolidge will tell Mr. Curtis that he believes the Senate master of its own destiny, is responsible for its own rule and may be treated to decide without presidential interference whether the existing rules are adequate for transaction of the nation's business by that body.

Of the 32 Senators whose terms will expire at the close of the session, 24 are Republicans and a majority of them are in debatable States. The six Democrats come from overwhelmingly Democratic States. The President believes that party control of the following Senate, which will serve during the remaining two years of his term, will be almost entirely determined by the issues raised in the coming Congress.

President Coolidge will discuss with Curtis the advisability of calling a special session of Congress in the event that a coal strike results from the Atlantic City conference of miners and operators.

WILL URGES TAX CUTS.

He will insist that the more than $200,000,000 surplus expected at the end of the year be devoted entirely to the sloughing of taxes.

He will urge that the Republican members of the Senate agree to slash surtaxes to at least 15 per cent, and that the inheritance tax maximum be cut to 25 per cent, and that the balance of the surplus be allowed to cut the lower brackets of the income tax.

The President started the week with a busy schedule. His visitors are daily increasing. Today he received Matthew Hale and Major E. J. Simpson.

This afternoon the Coolidges were visited by Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe. Later today Congressman David Mullan of Kansas was to be entertained at luncheon with Senator Curtis.

Bob Roy, Mrs. Coolidge's beautiful white collie, has learned to ask for his daily bath in the ocean. When Mrs. Coolidge asks him if he wants to take a swim, Bobbie barks twice, which the first lady in the land interprets as canine for "I do."

LIED TO SAVE BOY FROM GALLOWS

Darrow in Drive to Abolish Capital Punishment

FAKED STORY BLASTS SCOTT'S LAST HOPES

Chicago, July 20 (A.P.).—Another ray of hope, that one of the amazing last hour developments which saved him from death on the gallows last Friday would become tangible enough to prove his innocence during a seven-day reprieve, has been extinguished for Russell Scott.

James M. Ball, a Detroit telegraph operator, who last Friday declared that he witnessed the shooting of Joseph Maurer, Chicago drug clerk, and that Russell was innocent of the slaying, has admitted that the story was a romance concocted "for the sake of humanity."

Ball said he "sold a lie to save one whom I believe innocent," but that when he found that his story was not accomplishing anything he decided to admit the fake.

This was the second blow that Scott has received since his dramatic reprieve six hours before he was to hang. The day of execution was ordered by Governor Len Small when a Detroit telegram, purport-

Humble Bean Has New Role as Movie Star

Washington, July 20.—The humble bean, target for gibes and jokes, at last has come into its own as the "bean" of a movie. The importance of this legume as food is stressed in a new Department of Agriculture educational motion picture, "Beans or Bettle."

It was Darrow who saved Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, slayers of Bobby Franks, from the gallows in Chicago.

The vehicle for the campaign will be the League for the Abolition of Capital Punishment just organized here. Plans are under way for a national conference on capital punishment to meet here October 23, 24 and 25.

Among the organizers of the league besides Darrow and Malone are Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing; Thomas Mott Osborne, prison reformer and former warden, and Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York.

APPEAL TRIAL LAWYERS IN NATION-WIDE FIGHT

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—Clarence Darrow and Dudley Field Malone, of counsel for the defense in the Tennessee execution trial, are engaging with others in a nation-wide campaign to abolish capital punishment.

It was Darrow who saved Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, slayers of Bobby Franks, from the gallows in Chicago.

The vehicle for the campaign will be the League for the Abolition of Capital Punishment just organized here. Plans are under way for a national conference on capital punishment to meet here October 23, 24 and 25.

Among the organizers of the league besides Darrow and Malone are Lewis E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing; Thomas Mott Osborne, prison reformer and former warden, and Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York.

A vicious campaign against the death penalty will be started at once in New York State. It will culminate with the introduction of a bill in the Legislature. Pending action of the bill, Darrow, Malone and others will stamp the State.

East States have abolished the death penalty by statute. It exists in forty States and the District of Columbia.

O'BRIEN PLANS TO CLEAN UP CHELSEA

"I'm after Chelsea," said District Attorney O'Brien, "I'm going to wage war to the death on bootleggers, gin mills, dives and other forms of vice alleged to be prevalent in that city. No one will be spared."

Thousands of gallons of beer and whiskey and other drinks, as well as gambling implements, were moved from Revere to out of the way places early Saturday and yesterday as the zero hour approached for O'Brien to carry out his promised raid. The district attorney suspects that stuff has been taken to Chelsea, so he will do the reverse of his contraband liquor work in removing it they disregarded the watchful eyes of investigators from Pemberton sq. All sorts of vehicles were pressed into service and camouflaged necessities, such as saws, barrels and cartons, were used to hide the liquors.

Several loads of liquors from Revere were trailed by investigators to places in Chelsea, and an effort will be made today to have it seized before it is shipped in small lots to points in and about Roxbury and Dorchester.

District Attorney O'Brien, busy going over reports of his Revere investigators, declared he was pleased with the awakening of Revere police to the necessity of cleaning up that city.

BRYAN CLASHES WITH DARROW AT TRIAL

Commoner to Make Speech on Which He Worked for 2 Months

greatest speech of the trial, Darrow will defend scientism and evolution in general, and Scopes in particular, as agents of human progress.

He will deliver a multiple for freedom of teaching and learning. He will not only call upon the jury to acquit Scopes, but he will demand that Tennessee "raise the curtain" against learning and "tear down its Chinese wall that shuts out science."

Dudley Field Malone, Arthur Garfield Hays and John Randolph Neal will also plead for Scopes. In addition to Bryan, Attorney General Stewart, General Ben McKenzie and the two Hicks boys will demand his conviction.

Each side will speak four hours. That probably will carry the trial over to Tuesday.

Then will come the charge to the jury and the verdict.

PLAN OF DEFENSE.

Before the great argument starts today afternoon for the defense will file in the records the statements of a dozen scientists and theologians whose testimony was read in Judge Hamilton last Friday. These statements will be a summary of what they would have said on the witness stand if they had been permitted to testify.

That is a formality and will be done as part of the defense plan to appear.

On the eve of today's forenoon, Darrow enjoyed his only calm hours in months. Everything was quiet. There were no speeches and no statements by opposing attorneys. Even the drug store was closed.

And during this time, Darrow and his visitors thought over the issues involved in the trial and these quiet hours came to the top.

Which side will win eventually the battle of Dayton?

How long will the civilized world wait to find out?

How deeply will the American people become involved?

In response to Bryan's declaration that evolutionists are attempting to destroy Christianity, the defense holds that Bryan is the evangelical leader of a fundamentalist movement to set up a State religion. They also contend that this State religion will attempt to raise the curtain against scientific learning in this country.

They are counting upon the liberty-loving spirit of the country to block this.

The spirit is already responding, but its response, it seems, is commercial.

Dudley Field Malone has received a request to debate the issues with Bryan throughout the country on a tour office tour.

Georgia Rappaport, who brought about the arrest of Scopes, has a request for ninety lectures.

Rappaport will probably accept the offer but Malone, on the other hand, may reject his proposition because he is opposed to the commercial element in it. Besides, it is doubtful if Bryan would agree.

ISSUE NOT VITAL.

Malone, however, does not believe that the issue is exclusively vital for someone to rule, like Paul H. Henshaw, through the land and say "Fundamentalists are wrong."

Bryan is authority for the belief that the issue will become political. He has repeatedly stated that if his life lies in the Supreme Court he will seek to amend the Constitution of the United States and bar the teaching of subjects that conflict with the Bible.

That the issues are far reaching is the opinion of many who have watched the proceedings here.

CHURCHES INTERESTED.

Churches are vitally interested, not the Protestant churches only, but those of other faiths. Michael Williams, editor of the Commonwealth, a Catholic publication, will say in his paper:

"The Dayton trial is and will remain historical in a vital and permanent sense. An issue—indeed

Professor Snooper Refuses to Be Anybody's 'Monkey'

Professor Simon Snooper, anthropologist Impresario DeLuxe, in characteristic pose at Scopes' trial. He is shown puffing away on his trusty pipe while musing on the progress of the case. No matter who wins he declares nobody will ever "make a monkey out of him."

many issues of the most serious importance, have been opened up not to be put away in obscurity again. The American people are being asked the question more probing and more vital to their interests than all the questions being put to the laymen and witnesses at Dayton and the question is "Shall secular religion survive?"

German Hits Scopes Trial Critics; May Have One There

Berlin, July 20. (U.S.S.)—Europe may have its laugh—and certainly is having it—at the expense of America and the Scopes trial, but a little inspection would show no great cause for boasting. This was the opinion expressed today by Hans Drechsel, former biologist and professor at Leipzig University, in an article in the Leipziger "Vorbild."

"Even if we reject the fundamentalism of the Scopes trial, there is indication that America is doing more than chasing the dollar," he said.

While the anti-evolution law certainly is unbalanced because it is interference with the freedom of teaching, we should not forget too that a German Scopes trial is impossible.

"We have had enough examples of calumnies against men holding out views on the ideal form of the State, different from those of the intolerant people who claim that only their opinions are right."

The Tennessee trial does not surprise those who have been following up the development of fundamentalism in America in the last two years. Conditions are comparable to ours at the time of the crusades. The broad masses of America are much more religious than ours. The Church socially and morally, is more powerful.

422 CHILDREN FOUND DEFECTIVE OUT OF 500

From a study of 500 "Well" preschool children made by the Massachusetts department of public health, bad teeth, tonsils, and posture were most prominent defects. The children were all supposed to be well, yet only seventy-eight were found without defects. Enlarged tonsils were found on 215; 114 needed dental attention and better home care of the teeth and 118 showed indications of rickets—flaring ribs, funnel or pigeon chest, knock-knees or bow legs. Poor posture was noticeable also among children who did not have rickets.

Right food, orange juice and cod liver oil, fresh air and direct sunlight work miracles with children who have rickets. Easy, amusing exercises and proper exercise do much to prevent the simpler forms of bad posture.

Asks Prayers for Dayton's 'Lost Soul'; Declares Human Race Is 'Going to Dogs'

By PAUL WHELTON

(Anthropologist Impresario) Dayton, Tenn., July 20.—Although many of the big people had the idea that Sunday was just Sunday in Dayton, this opinion was short of holes as a rusty tin canister by Simon Snooper, who said grimly that if I had to be a day at all, why not make it a day of prayer for Dayton's lost soul.

Speaking officially as an accredited correspondent and as holder of the honorary degrees O. I. C. U. and H. U. A. J., conferred upon him by West Edalia High School, Bobo, the Congo, for distinguished service in the arena and wiles, Professor Snooper declared significantly:

"I told you so."

The staggering statement, stuffed as it was with tremendous import, fell like the rent bill on the ears of one lecturer in the Hotel Aquia lobby, and many men paled—as men will—under the circumstances and the odds.

DECLARES "BAM IS TIED."

"Simon," I rebuked coldly, "you forget your training. You must forget, as well, your late training. You forget, that as an accredited correspondent at the Dayton evolution trial, wearing a badge and all, you are the cynosure of all eyes."

"I am no cynosure," laughed the Professor heartily. "Bryan may be a cynosure, but I am no cynosure. Still, even one of my own dear species will let me be a cynosure, a cynosure member of this year's human race."

"And yet," I chided, "negative though it may be to backfire on your speech, you make wild and astounding statements such as, for instance, this one."

"My statement," answered Simon in bitterness, "is one that has a base of fact." His voice was frigid, as if it were, an iceberg. "Not only does my previous discovery that this doggie case is in the bag, hold true, but now, I am able to say 'BAM IS TIED TO A DEAD END!'"

AGAINST COMPROMISES.

Staggered, yet I remained sober. "Doubtless you have some supporting data, a bit of an affidavit, perhaps an eye-witness, or what-not?"

"I am not sure of the what-not," he said firmly, "but no sooner did I volunteer as an expert witness in this here argument about men springing from monkeys, than experts were barred."

"The experts, however, have been given opportunity to make their say in affidavit form. Of course your affidavit was waived, you said that privilege."

"I will subscribe to no comforting compromise. Compromises are beastly."

"Absolutely horrible," I agreed. "Shouldn't be encouraged."

"Never should be."

IS NOBODY'S 'MONKEY.'

"There ain't no man living, be they a judge or Joe Bryan, can make a monkey out of Simon Snooper."

"Perfectly impossible," said I and let it go at that, because it seemed dead in anger, Professor Simon of Franklin Park is no kias of Springfield.

"I have been thinking," I mused the learned ecologist and deny, "that my life-long theory regarding the disposal of rusty tin canisters after life has been well borne out in the trial so far."

"You think," I chafed. "You have a theory?"

"It is a theory formed by long watching of the public, during the antics and action of William Jennings Bryan and the disciples of ignorance, the Tennessee hill-billies."

"Your theory, I dare say, is quaint and pretty."

"It is truth," he declared simply. "It is this: that the human race, at death, goes to the dogs. It ain't gone already."

There was nothing to be said to that, so we went over to court for the arguments, where Simon slipped in, disguised as the Pickwick Papers.

Cowgirl Rescues Rodeo Star From a Mad Bull

Portchester, N. Y., July 19 (A. P.).—Rescued by a cowgirl bride's untiring larrikin from a maddened bull, by Sage, Oklahoma rodeo performer, is in a hospital here with a broken leg.

The bride is Mrs. Richard Shotton, known as the champion woman bronco buster, who eloped recently to wed a soldier.

Sage's act was to jump from his horse to reaching bull, seize its horns and throw it. The bull flung some ten feet, charged and started to trample him.

Mrs. Shotton spurred her mounting colt, swung her lariat over the horse, turned her pony about and pulled the bull from its victim.

GOODWIN BANS FREAK AUTO WHISTLES

Windshield Devices Are Compulsory Under New Law, Official Rules

New regulations prohibiting the use of motor or exhaust whistles and requiring either the installation of windshield wipers or the keeping open of the windshield itself during inclement weather have been formulated by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin and approved by the Highway Commission.

The regulation will become effective August 1.

Goodwin declares that hundreds of complaints have been received against the loud and unreasonable manner in which the whistles have been operated.

"So far as the obscured windshields are concerned," he says, "last year there were fourteen persons killed and many injured because drivers, during rainy weather, were operating with no windshield cleaners, and the windshield closed, thereby making it impossible to see the road clearly."

For violations of these rules and regulations the general laws provide a fine ranging from $25 to $50 for a first offense and not less than $50 nor more than $100 for subsequent offenses. In addition, in case of persistent failure to observe the regulations, Goodwin says he will revoke registrations.

The regulations are as follows: "Section 1.—No bell, horn or other means of signaling as required by Section 7 of Chapter 39 of the General Laws shall be operated by means of compressed gas from the engine or its exhaust.

"Section 2.—Every motor vehicle operated in or on any way shall have a clear view ahead at all times, and when weather conditions interfere with visibility, the windshield shall be opened or equipped with a windshield cleaner."

CHIEF DEMANDS BOY'S KIDNAPER SPRINKLERS FOR LYNN EXTRADITION

1,302 Fires in Year Cause Chance to Push for Better Protection

Sprinkler systems in large lodgings and apartment houses in Lynn are demanded by Chief Edward M. Chase of the Lynn Fire Department, in a report submitted to Mayor McPherson today.

The fire chief declares the installation of the sprinklers is necessary because the owners of the apartment and rooming houses refuse to keep the cellars of the places clean, and a heavy fire loss is the result.

"Lynn had the amazingly large number of 1,302 alarms of all kinds during 1924, and there were 1,301 actual fires," the report says.

"Of the actual fires 822 were extinguished with chemicals, hydrant fires, 10 two-alarm fires, 40 out-of-town calls and 78 false alarms were answered during the year of the out-of-town calls, 33 were by Swampscott and one each to Lynnfield and Haverhill."

The fire loss for the year was slightly greater than 10 per cent. of the taxable value involved, or an actual loss of $1,217,593 on property valued at $10,458,517. The insurance on this property was $9,994,385; the insurance loss was $258,149.41, and the fire loss uninsured property was $339,443.23.

The heavy loss for the year was augmented by the fire which destroyed the English High School building, where one fireman, Arthur H. Preble, was killed by a falling wall. Two women were fatally burned during the year.

NEW YORK STATE HAS FEWEST HOME OWNERS

Washington, July 19.—According to census bureau statistics, New York, Georgia and the District of Columbia have the smallest number of home owners in proportion to population. # Lubricate your car with Shellars!

There are some motorists who attempt to save money by buying cheap oil. They little realize the false economy of such a practice.

Inferior and "doctored" oil may cost you from $50 to $150 a year extra. It costs real money to replace burned-out bearings. It is expensive business re-boring cylinders.

The consistent use of Socony Motor Oil is an investment in motor insurance against future repair bills.

The average consumption of motor oil per car is not over twenty gallons per year. Even if it costs an additional five cents a quart to get the genuine Socony Motor Oil, it would mean only $4 extra a year—and think of the money saved.

Insist upon Socony Motor Oil*; resist spurious and cheap imitations sold for a price.

BOY OF CANADA PRINCE IN STATE

Quebec, July 19.—The body of Cardinal Beign, prima of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada, is lying in state today in the chapel of the archbishop's palace.

The body will be in state until Saturday and will be viewed by thousands of sorrowing Catholics. When the doors of the chapel were thrown open to the public today, a long stream of mourners were waiting to pay their last respects to their beloved prelate.

On Saturday morning Cardinal Beign will be buried in the crypts at the palace, where all the archbishops of Quebec are interred.

According to those who were with Cardinal Beign during his illness, only his strong constitution enabled him to live as long as he did. After his illness it was realized that he was elderly, and members of the clergy were summoned while the last sacrament was administered by Mr. Laramie, confessor of Quebec.

Later, as the Cardinal became weaker, the prayers for the dying were recited, and shortly after his entrance, conscious until the end, died peacefully.

WOMAN CALLS 2 COPS TO HELP HIDE LIQUOR

Mrs. Emma J. Patterson, who owns a rooming house at No. 25 Union street, Lynn, made a grievous error when she called on two strange men who were talking to a woman lodger to assist her in hiding liquor because "the police were coming."

The two men were Sergeant McLaughlin and Patrolman Dursney of the Lynn liquor squad, and according to their story, they willingly assisted Mrs. Patterson in changing the hiding place of a case of rum and some alcohol, and then arrested her.

LONDON DEBS WEARING FLESH COLORED TIGHTS

London, July 19.—The "dub" at the tea dances here have gone the limit in the new fashion. ## BOSTON MERCHANT IS GENEROUS DONATOR

You will notice that at all the entertainments of the WNAC-American Women's Club there is always a generous donation in prizes or refreshments by Mr. Frank Archer of the Moxie company. Whether we are having a radio tea, a Christmas party, a birthday party, a booth at the Food Fair, or at the Home Beautiful Show, or an outing, Mr. Archer can always be counted on to provide his famous and refreshing Moxie, paper cups, paper napkins and lollipop in generous quantities.

At our outing at the Sorosis Farms at Marshfield next Wednesday, you will find souvenirs from Mr. Archer as well as six cases of Moxie which will be competed for as prizes.

One of Mr. Archer's most interesting charities is, I think, the sending of cases of Moxie to every hospital where any friends of this have "served time" as a patient.

His unique ideas in advertising have also always attracted a great deal of attention, and I know we are all familiar with the Moxie horse and Moxie jockey and the gentleman with the compelling forefinger.

At the recent 10th anniversary celebration in Cambridge Mr. Archer afforded President Coolidge one of his rare laughs when two of his hired men pulled up in front of him till Moxie advertising was carefully concealed with the license drawn to represent George Washington and General Pershing.

It is reported in radio circles that Mr. Archer is going to make his first bow before the microphone in the very near future, and I am sure every radio fan will be glad to hear his melodious voice say "Just give me Moxie for mine."

CLUB MEMBERS PRAISE NEW BOOK OF

Marshmallow Recipes

Ever since I promised on this page, Monday, July 6, to send to anyone of my readers a copy of the attractive new recipe book which has just been published by the Campfire Marshmallow company, I received a very large number of letters from our club members, praising this book, saying that they have tried many of the recipes with great success.

One member from Malden writes: "Although we have quite a file of old cooking books, as you probably know, they contain practically no marshmallow recipes, so we very much appreciate this new Campfire book."

Try to think of marshmallows not just as a candy but really as a popular table food. Progressive housewives everywhere are now using marshmallows in a great variety of ways for many dairy and delicious dishes. Campfire marshmallows are in fact, just what you need for pies and cakes, etc.

If you haven't your Campfire book, better drop me a line today and be sure to try the recipes. For instance, the Campfire marshmallow fudge cake is simply delicious—Campfire marshmallows are so good and I am sure will be very popular with your family, and I don't believe the marshmallow butter-cream pie will last a week in your household.

For salads, too, cream, sauces, sandwiches and in fishes they are unsurpassed, and best of all, they are so reasonable. Only 37c for a 12-ounce box that contains 30 marshmallows.

FRUIT JUICE SYRUPS QUICK AND CONVENIENT FOR JELLY

Jelly making season is now with us. On a muggy July day there is certainly no great temptation to roll for hours in a hot kitchen, sorting, crushing, straining and cooking fruit. The up-to-date housewife, however, and the typical New England housekeeper is always progressive—she is saving all this fuss, muss and bother this year by combining two modern cooking helps, Za-Rex and Certo.

These cooking magicians make it possible to have pure home-made fruit jellies in less than five minutes. By using Za-Rex—the real, fruit juice syrup—you insure for your jellies a full-bodied fruit taste that it is impossible to obtain in jellies where the fruit has to be cooked and the flavor lost in consequence. Even if you are in a tiny camp up in the Maine woods or in a cottage on Cape Cod you can make your Winter supply of jelly over a one-burner oil stove or a gas cookstove of kerosene, with no chance of failure.

Za-Rex is made of pure fruit juices only, smoothly blended, and highly concentrated with pure cane sugar by a cold (uncooked) process which preserves the fresh fruit flavor. You can make your jellies in six different varieties, being sure that they are pure and delicious, and containing all the beneficial qualities of the fresh fruits with no substitutes or adulterants, no synthetic extracts and no artificial or coal tar colors.

Write me for directions for how to make sparkling delicious jellies in just one minute. I know you will be delighted with this easy method and the clear, sparkling, handsome jellies that you can store away. They will be real ornaments to your shelves, and so handy for unexpected company, as to take a friend who is ill, as well as for every day use for sandwiches, spreads, relishes with cold meats, for Washington pie, cookie fillings, and a endless number of desserts.

MORE ABOUT CHOP SUEY AND HOW TO MAKE IT

It is most interesting to me to see by your letters what interests YOU in this menu each week. I will just a little last week about Chop Suey and received an unusually large number of letters and personal calls in this connection.

So, today, since so many of you are fond of Chop Suey dishes, I want to tell you about Chop Suey. You can make right in your own home with the help of just one little can and one little bottle.

Here's a recipe for real Chinese Chop Suey that makes four portions.

2 cups lean pork, very lean, cut in thin slices and marinate in 1/2 cup soy sauce and 1/2 cup vinegar for 1 hour. 1 cup onion, sliced. 1 cup bean sprouts, sliced. 1 small tomato, sliced. 1/2 cup mushrooms, sliced. 1/2 cup carrots, sliced. 1/2 cup celery, sliced. 1/2 cup cabbage, sliced. 1/2 cup lettuce, sliced. 1/2 cup mushrooms, sliced. 1/2 cup carrots, sliced. 1/2 cup celery, sliced. 1/2 cup cabbage, sliced. 1/2 cup lettuce, sliced.

Per the usual meal it is done.

Add water and cook for 10 minutes and stir until ready to be cooked.

Add the Namco Chop Suey vegetables and simmer for three minutes. Add four tablespoons Namco Chop Suey sauce and stir in the meat. Serve with boiled rice and additional Namco Chop Suey sauce.

This delicious Chop Suey sauce can be used in many ways other than in Chop Suey. It is made from rice, wheat, salt and the most delicious bean. It contains no pepper, ginger or other strong seasoning and makes an excellent table sauce for use on cold meats, fish, in soups and gravies, on fish cakes, etc.

The Namco Chop Suey vegetables—water chestnuts, bamboo sprouts, etc.—provide the ingredients necessary for a real Chinese diet without the trouble of your having to search for them. For this reason you can use these vegetables for salad also, slicing them thin and serving them with your favorite salad dressing, garnished with lettuce, tomatoes, etc., as well as with the Namco Chop Suey sauce. These vegetables are excellent creamed and may be used for all other purposes.

Write me for one of the most attractive Chop Meat recipe booklets ever seen—50 delicious recipes, prepared by experts—all in color. A booklet you will always want to keep.

VISITORS MADE TO CLEAN UP AT REVERE

The protest of thousands of Revere bathers over the dirty condition of the bathing beach at the resort has brought swift action from the Metropolitan district police who have inaugurated a clean-up campaign.

The officers patrolling the beach are prohibiting persons from throwing refuse such as paper, banana peels, orange peels, remnants of lunches, etc., onto the beach or on the boulevard.

So far no arrests have been made but the police have issued scores of citations to persons who have been caught throwing refuse away from the beach.

Automobile parties that have been the habit of eating their lunches while their cars were parked along the beach and then throwing the remnants under their cars, have found it rather disagreeable to climb under the machine and scrape up the refuse and carry it to the barrels, while bathers have also been forced to carry empty bottles and old lunch boxes to the receptacles.

Many of the hot dog stands and pretzel stands along the beach have also been served with notice that they will be prosecuted if the practice of throwing refuse on the boulevard continues.

GIRL IS RESCUED WHEN TRAPPED IN STORE

New York, July 20.—Joseph Kozlovsky has a lot to say when he entered a Brooklyn drug store telephone booth on Saturday morning. By the time she had said "Hi" all it was Sunday morning. The employee had all gone home and the store was locked up with her in it.

Then began a search for an interested policeman, constrained to find a narrow stratum. After many applicants had been tested and found wanting a young patrolman with a streamline build was procured who wriggled like an eel through the narrow opening and freed the imprisoned maiden.

Clothes Without Pockets to Curb Turk Graft

Constantinople, July 20.—Graft-proof uniforms have been introduced for Turkish customs officials by order of the Ankara Government. The new uniforms are built without pockets for customs officials whose regulation for putting things in their pockets is had throughout the Ottoman Empire.

Turkish papers publishing the decree receive it with surprise, expressing an opinion that a man who will steal will steal without pockets.

EPISCOPALIS PLAN 'CLERGY VILLAGE'

Manassas, July 20.—A Gothic village in the National Capital for elderly and retired clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church is to be established by the Washington Cathedral.

A special cathedral committee meeting here announced that construction of the first of twelve cottages of the proposed village is to be started immediately. Bishop James E. Freeman of the Washington diocese, explained that a generous gift by the Rev. Joseph W. Fletcher, D. D., rector of the Washington Cathedral, had made possible the building of the first house at this time, and that the Rev. Mr. Fletcher would be its future occupant.

The committee, Bishop Freeman said, contemplated acquisition of the village to clergymen who will well serve the building of the first house at this time, and that the Rev. Mr. Fletcher would be its future occupant.

The village is to be situated on Mount Saint Alban near the Cathedral, to which it ultimately may be connected with a children's hospital.

MORE NEWS OF ZANE GREY'S 'LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS'

By MARTHA LEE.
If applications for tickets to the WNAC-American Women's Club outing at Sorosis Farms, Marineland, Wednesday, continue to pour in as fast as they are coming today, this will, I am very sure, be the largest and most enjoyable outing ever undertaken by a women's organization.

I am so delighted that everyone is so enthusiastic about our plans for next Sunday that I am giving about 15 hours of every day to making ready every detail of the mammoth picnic, and Boston merchants are co-operating with me most generously.

One interesting bit of news I must tell you today and that is that one of the sports will be an observational contest. There will be two observational contests, one composed of articles taken from the Shepherd Series, and one table furnished by the S. S. Pierce Company. For prizes for food observation table there will be a first prize of $15 of S. S. Pierce groceries, second prize $5, third prize $2, fourth $1, and ten one-dollar consolation prizes, all of S. S. Pierce groceries.

GRIPPING FILM OF PLAINS AT FENWAY

Zane Grey's 'Light of Western Stars' a Smashing and Vivid Drama

The main feature at the Fenway Theatre this week is "The Light of Western Stars," another of those clean wholesome, typically American productions in which Zane Grey is famous.

The latest Paramount production has the popular Jack Holt in the role of hero, with Noah Berry and Billy Dove sharing the featured honors, under the direction of William K. Howard.

"The Light of Western Stars" is a photo thriller and is typical of practically all of Zane Grey's stories, in that it depicts the glorious colorful phase of the early romantic West.

ON LAST FRONTIER

The scene is set in the Arizona cattle country back in those adventurous days when it was America's last frontier. It provides a picturesque setting for the thrilling story of action drama, conflict and love.

From the moment Jack Holt as the dashing cowboy, Noah Berry as the landlubber, and Billy Dove as the adorable heroine, appear, the scene grips the interest and holds till the final fighting finish.

Of the original story, all the essentials have been carefully preserved and with the added advantage of the desert background the production has an air of realism that is refreshing in its details and its historic value.

A GREAT SITUATION

The action develops some smashing dramatic situations and hair-raising thrills, but takes a startling turn when Noah Berry and Billy Dove, and follows that up by capturing Holt and William Scott her brother.

The girl is suddenly faced with an uncomfortable situation, for Berry, with great cunning, tells her she may have her choice of naming either her brother or the man she loves as the one who must die.

"The Light of Western Stars" is the kind of entertainment that is universal in its appeal.
